The Pathway Home!

Support for young adults
Are you 18–24 years old, and do you need help with becoming independent? Are you finding it difficult to find housing or a flat? Are there other challenges in your life that you need support with? Contact The Pathway Home and we can work together to solve your issues.

Right beside you as you start your independent life
Becoming independent is often intertwined with significant life changes, but you do not have to face them alone.

It is important to us here at The Pathway Home that every young adult has the opportunity to become independent in a safe and self-oriented way. We want to support you and the community around you when you take your first steps towards independence. We offer regular meetings so that you are not left alone. Support is offered by both Red Cross employees and volunteers.

Receiving support offered for young people becoming independent is voluntary and based on mutual commitment and seeking solutions together.

”At The Pathway Home, we are all equal, all sitting at the same table together
